

Everyone counts, except you.

A lot of people believe that our voting system is flawed. They believe that the Electoral College is outdated, the count is fixed, and the system and its officials are corrupt. All of that might be true. But your vote is your only voice. If you want change, now is the time to speak up. Be the exception, engage our political system >> exceptyou.org